Part III, line 1a:

Circulating Collections - The circulating collections (materials including books, periodicals, audio visual, etc.) are not recognized as assets in the statements of financial position. Purchases of collection items are expensed and recorded as a decrease in net assets without donor restrictions in the year in which the items are acquired (of which approximately $4.9 million and 4.9 million was acquired in 2021 and 2020, respectively). Proceeds from the sale of circulating collection items would be used to acquire other collection items..

Special Collections - The Library's special collections, which were primarily acquired through contributions since the Library's inception, consist of rare books, folios and maps, and archival holdings (primarily its own institutional archives) that are held for educational, research, and special curatorial purposes. Special collection items are not recognized as an asset on the statement of financial position. Purchases of new special collection items (none in 2021 and 2020) would be recorded as a decrease in net assets without donor restrictions in the year the items were acquired, or as a decrease to net assets with donor restrictions if the assets used to purchase collections were restricted by donors.

All special collections are subject to appropriate stewardship measures (catalogued, preserved, and cared for as appropriate, finding aids created, and activities verifying their existence and assessing their condition).

The Library's policy is that proceeds from the sale of special collection items, or insurance recoveries on the loss of special collection items would be used to purchase suitable new special collection items or used for direct care of the collection. Direct Care for the Library's special collections is defined as expenses to enhance the life, usefulness and quality of the item, that are based on an institutional plan for the special collection. The policy is based upon the FASB's ASU 2019-03, the AAM's ethics, guidelines and recommendation for direct care as well as legal guidance.

Proceeds from the sale of collections or insurance (of which there was an insurance recovery of $0 in 2021 and $306,660 in 2020) would be reflected as revenue resulting in an increase in net assets with donor restrictions.

Due to the physical recovery of one stolen item, insurance proceeds in the amount of $5,000 was returned to the insurance company.

Part III, line 4:

Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh makes available to the public a collection of approximately 4.9 million books, periodicals, audiovisual items and other materials from the Main Library, the Library of Accessible Media for Pennsylvanians, and 17 neighborhood locations. Most items may be borrowed by library cardholders for use at home, work, or school. Some unique, expensive, or frequently consulted materials are for use in the library only. This collection is the foundation for the Library's mission, which is to "engage our community in Literacy and Learning" and as such serves as the basis for the Library's tax exempt purpose.

Part V, line 4:

Distributions from the endowment fund are for the purchase of materials (books), programming and unrestricted purposes in accordance with the donor's wishes.

Part XI, Line 2d - Other Adjustments:

Change in value of split interest agreements	120,740.
Consolidated supporting organization revenue & gains	1,208,205.
Change in value of Buncher Stock	2,149,749.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1, Description of Organization Mission:

The mission of Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh is to engage our community in literacy and learning.

As a public trust created "for the people," Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh embraces its role in providing open and free access to information that inspires people to engage in literacy and learning.

Through Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, the people of our region will develop the literacies and connections that support individual achievement and strengthen the power of community. The Library's core values are to build community, prioritize people, provide access and enable learning.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments:

While books and materials remain the heart of the library, Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh has transformed into a community cornerstone that focuses on education, workforce and economic development and neighborhood vitality. The Library empowers people of the Pittsburgh region and helps transform their lives through life-long learning, digital literacy and connections to others. At Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, ideas, people and community partners interact to create positive change.

Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh's work is guided by our strategic plan.

Our 2018-2022 strategic plan (available at carnegielibrary.org) includes specific goals and strategies to ensure that the Library fulfills its role as a community anchor, providing equitable programs and services to meet the information needs of all residents, inside and outside of library walls. The Library seeks to expand education, skills and knowledge for all by providing access to resources and robust databases, encouraging exploration and creativity and professional expertise.

Across neighborhoods, age groups, demographics, platforms and time, the Library promotes literacy and values patron-centered services, welcoming spaces, innovation, curiosity, tolerance, respect and the acquisition of knowledge. Through the community's investment, the Library does this and much more, helping to make life better for people in our region.

The Library has demonstrated continued creativity and resilience during the COVID-19 pandemic by evolving methods of keeping patrons connected and supported in a variety of ways from the growth of virtual services and experiences to the thoughtful return of in-person services. In February 2021, in-person services resumed with time, occupancy and spatial access limits in place. By July, the Library expanded service hours at all locations and restored full patron access to collections and browsing. Limited in-person programming resumed in October 2021. More than 12,000 people of all ages attended programs across all Library locations in 2021; of this total, approximately 9,600 attended virtual programs.

pre-pandemic levels, remain steady; between July and December 2021, more than 80,000 people on average visited the Library each month, totaling almost 700,000 visits to locations throughout the year. For students and adults alike, computer and WiFi access remain in demand (nearly 13 million minutes used in 2021), and through funding from a federal grant, Chromebook bundles and hotspots are available for extended lending through summer 2023.

Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh reaches out to the community with programs and services to promote literacy and learning and to increase awareness about Library resources. During the pandemic, virtual outreach efforts allowed library users to continue engaging with the Library with more than 1,500 participants attending virtual outreach programs.

As a free public library, Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh makes available at no charge a collection of approximately 3.2 million physical and digital items. During 2021, nearly 2 million physical items, along with nearly 1 million items from the eContent collection, circulated.

In October, Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh joined other large library systems across the country and many others in Allegheny County in going fine free on a permanent basis. The Library no longer charges late fees on items borrowed from or returned to one of our locations. Studies show that overdue fines can keep people away from the library and inequitably restrict access to library resources. By removing barriers for our patrons, more people can enjoy all the resources CLP has to offer.

Every day, Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh supports the community with early childhood educational opportunities, out of school learning programs and myriad services for families, seniors, veterans, entrepreneurs and immigrants, among others. The Library's locations offer daytime and evening availability to patrons of all ages and backgrounds, providing a welcoming space for all. Online resources including eBooks, databases, music and career and educational resources can be accessed 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Highlights of 2021 included:

Children: With in-person programs halted for most of the year, and restrictions to visiting schools and other community organizations still in place, the Library again turned to book giveaways to increase access to high-quality reading materials for youth. Books were distributed through partner organizations, including participating Pittsburgh Public Schools, and directly to CLP patrons. In total, 28,322 books were given away to youth in 2021, including more than 12,000 during the Summer Reading program. The Library again partnered with the Western Pennsylvania Diaper Bank on a drive-up event, this one at CLP Homewood. Families with children ages birth through 18 months were offered Best Books for Babies book bundles and boxes of diapers. Early literacy innovations were also at the forefront of children's services in 2021, including partnerships with the Hill District Early Literacy Initiative, organized by Trying Together and Macedonia Family and Community Enrichment, and Pittsburgh Ready, a CLP program that offered childcare providers access to a broad range of supportive library services and professional development. A new Academic Achievement Support program provides both in-person and virtual tutoring opportunities.

Teens: Teen Specialists created Grab & Go Activity Kits to replicate in-person learning experiences that youth would have participated in at the Library before COVID-19. Instruction and resource sheets, along with book suggestions available through the Library's Hoopla and OverDrive platforms, were included with the activity and the kits complemented weekly program videos posted to YouTube and Instagram.

From January through August 2021, the Library distributed more than 9,000 kits across all open locations. Understanding that online access was not available to all youth, the kits included printed instructions and resources, making it possible for all regardless of internet or electronic device availability to participate. Battle of the Books returned in a virtual format, providing students in Grades 5 through 12 an opportunity to flex their trivia skills in grade-level events.

Summer Skills Intensives also remained virtual in 2021, with two week-long art workshops offered in July and August. Each participant received a package in the mail containing the necessary supplies for the week's activities.

Adults: During the first half of 2021, the Library offered virtual programs for adults, including business programs, guest speakers, book discussions and digital skills workshops. Beginning in October, the latter two programs resumed in-person, along with job and career-related workshops. Virtual and in-person 1:1 appointments continued to support jobseekers, small business owners, genealogy researchers and those needing technology assistance. Also, in October, the Library launched facilitator training for "We Learn," a new service in Adult Programming to develop volunteer-led, informal learning opportunities. The first cohort of facilitators anticipates offering workshops in 2022. The CivicCLP Speaker Series also debuted in 2021, featuring a diverse group of presenters who offered perspectives on the First Amendment, social and racial justice, information literacy, politics and more.

LAMP: Library of Accessible Media for Pennsylvanians, a network library of the Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (NLS LBPH), served more than 14,600 individuals across the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during the 2020-21 fiscal year, with the circulation of more than 1.3 million items. Staff answered reference questions, promoted accessible technology, discussed the latest bestsellers and favorite authors and suggested new titles patrons might enjoy. The print and electronic collections offered by LAMP include large print books, audio-described DVDs, audiobooks and magazines, physical braille books and downloadable audio and braille.
